

Pajama Party, July 25, 2009

Four o'clock in the afternoon rolls around and you watch as ladies are arriving and meeting in the lounge at Jewell's Fabrics. One thing you notice as everyone is coming in - they are all in pajamas! Everyone is enjoying the fellowship and snacks.

On July 25, several ladies met at Jewell's Fabrics for a pajama party. Everyone brought an overnight bag (or two) with anything they could think of that they might need for a sewing sleepover at a friend's. These items were traded for prizes when we played "Let's make a deal." The prizes ranged from a sewing bag to candy bars, sewing kits to toilet paper and anything in between. After the game, everyone received a discount based on what they were wearing. The last event before everyone went upstairs to shop was a drawing for a door prize; which turned out to be a very nice sewing basket with room for all kinds of sewing supplies.

Everyone had a great time and left with some great prizes. If you were not able to attend, you'll want to be sure to mark your calendar for the next event.

Pictures:

1

2

3

4

5

6